YOUNG RICHTER IN PARIS QUEL

Son of Former Partner in Brewster Carriage Company Meets Venezuelan Who is Alleged to Have Insulted Woman.

FIST FIGHT FIRST,

PISTOLS AFTERWARD.

South American Said to Have Been Wounded in Arm by EnBeen Wounded in Arm b fended Lady from Baltimore.

Everett Richter, son of Charles J. Richter, formerly one of the principal sweets in the Brewster Carriage Company, is now the hero in his own set, which is made up of the young rich element in New York club life. Richter has fought a duel in Paris for the sake

The woman, a beautiful morean, while walking along the Avenue des Acasies, in ...e Bois de Boulogne, was insulted by a Venezuelan who is well nown in caris or a variety of reasons. He is a boulevardier with money and a passion for fighting with pistols. To the cafe habitues he is known as a man who will ask for an exchange of cards on the slightest provocation. He was a hero in his own way until last Saturday, when he met young Richter. Now

The Venezuelan insisted upon his attentions to the young Baltimore woman, who was accompanied by her little daughter. The woinan appeales to a crowd of bystanders for protection and Richter offered his services. He struck the Venezuelan between the eyes and knocked him down. Then there was a boulevard fight, which did not last long, however, for the superior strength of the American made it altogether a one-sided affair. An exchange of cards followed, the American escorting his compatriot to a carriage at once.

The following day a pistol due; took place in the Farc des Princes. The honors of this belonged to the American as well as the fistic encounter on the Bois. The Venezuelan was wounded in the sam. The Venezuelan insisted upon his at-the Bois. The Venezuelan was wounded in the arm.

Everett Richter is an athletic young man whose temper, while not easily ruffled, is the kind that finds vent in a personal encounter based upon good cause. His father says he is "not-headed and liely to get into dufficulty and afterward regret it."

The Richters live at Not 119 West Seventy-third street. Mr. Richter pere said to an Evening World reporter to-day:

"I have not as yet heard of the duel in which my son engaged, but it is quite in keeping with his natural disposition. He is strong and athletic, somewhat hot headed, and would readily engage in an affair of this kind if the provocation was there. He is quite capable of defending himself.

"He does not care particularly for Wis there. He is quite capable of defecting himself.

"He does not care particularly for business, and the choosing of his own career has been a matter of his own decisions he was in my business for a time, but as he did not like it he quit and went to Europe for a study of languages. He is now in Paris studying with a tutor and preparing himself for a professional career."

Everett Richter has been away from New York for a year. He is popular in club circles, devotes much of his time to athletic affairs and is known as a good sportsman. He has the directness of the young American and rarely hesitates when sudden action is demanded.

WHO SHOT BELLBOY

They Flock to Jefferson Market Court and Shower Delicacies and Attentions on Harry Mc-Auley When Arraigned.

Hundreds of women crowded Jefferson Market Court to-day to have a peep at Harry McAuley, the sevator boy of the Martha Washington Hotel, who shot William Morrison, the head beliboy, sev-eral days ago. McAuley was arraigned before Magistrate Cornell. Sinse his arrest McAuley has been petted by the women of the hotel. They have visited the prison, sent him all sorts of deilcacles and showered mim with atten-

Hugh Pentecost, the lawyer, who had taken McAuley's case, was superseded to-day by Assemblyman Matthew wF. Neville, who had been interested in the case by some of McAuley's women friends. Mr. Neville succeeded in having McAuley released in $2,000 bail. Reports from the New York Hospital, where Morrison has been since the shooting, were that he was out of danger and would projably recover. Magistrate Cornol postponed the examina-ger and would prohably recover. Magistrate Cornol postponed the examination until Dec. 18.

While the bas papers were being made out McAuley sat in the sergeant's room addoming the court, and there he was surrounded by a dozen of his women admirers, prominent among them being Mass Ruffner and his aunt. Airs Frankilo.

Harry said he didn't like being looked up. He added that he was siek, and his cold an claimmy hands bore out his statement. The women murmured sympathetic words in his ear as they shock hands with him.

"You should not do wrong," said one of the wamen, "and then you would not have to be icked up."

"It couldn't help it," replied the youth petuhnily. T stood his magging about as long as I could. He was always at me, He would come along and filp me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west a late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one morning when I west a late he hit me on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil, and one on the head with a lead pencil and one on

EX-CONVICT TOOK CHILD FROM WIF

Fred Weissmann, Pardoned Last June by Gov. Odell, Kept Little Girl for Two Weeks, Causing Much Suffering.

Fired Weissmann was sent to Sing Sing in 1894 for a burglary at the home of J. Grosjean on Long Island, under sentence of eighteen years. He was pardoned last June by Gov. Odell and Immediately started a bird store at No. 1148 Myrtle avenue, Williamsburg. He also began a search for his wife and daughter. The child was only three and daughter lived at No. 676 Madison street, Brooklyn. They refused to have anything to do with him and two weeks ago the girl disappeared while on an errand for her mother.

She returned home Saturday in a pitiable condition, telling a most horrible story. She said that her father had taken her to rooms back of his bird store and that there she had suffered for two weeks.

store and that there she had suffered for two weeks.

The mother was so indignant that she took Henrietta to the Children's Society and officers made an investigation, substantiating for themselves the story told by the girl. Wærrants were sworn out to-day, and Capt. Becker, of the Hamburg avenue police station, went to the bird store to arrest Weissman. They found that he had barricaded the deors and windows, and were met with the threat that he would shoot any one who attempted to enter the place.

Heedless of the threat, the police broke open the door, and after a fight the former convict was overpowered and diarmed. In the Ewen Street Police Court, where he was later arraigned, Wæissmann was held for trial in $3,000 ball.
